

OUR CHALLENGE

Humanity's 21st century challenge is to meet the needs of all within the means of the planet.

How can our area be a home to thriving people in a thriving place while respecting the wellbeing of all people and the health of the whole planet ?

Our many local groups and initiatives are already laying strong foundations to meet this and other challenges

Change is inevitable as we rapidly wear ourselves off fossil fuel dependence, regenerate local and global eco-systems and create a fairer more equitable society focussed on wellbeing for all.

'The Doughnut: a 21st-century compass. The 12 dimensions of the social foundation are derived from the UN Sustainable Development Goals. Between social and planetary boundaries lies an environmentally safe and socially just space in which humanity can thrive.'

Kate Raworth: Economist, Environmental Change Institute

DUNBAR COMMUNITY RESPONSE COVID-19

Our communities are strong and resilient and there are simple things you can do to help them continue to thrive:

- Check in on any vulnerable family, friends and neighbours. Sometimes just helping them with their shopping and checking they have everything they need can make a big difference.
- If you know someone who is self-isolating, contact them via phone and text and check that they're ok. By its very nature, self-isolation is a solitary experience and their wellbeing will likely be improved by talking to someone.

PLACE THIS SIGN IN YOUR WINDOW IF YOUR HOUSEHOLD IS SELF-ISOLATING. PLEASE CUT ALONG THE DASHED LINE AND USE APPROPRIATELY. PLEASE ENSURE THAT YOU PUT THE IMAGE SIDE FACING OUTWARD FROM YOUR WINDOW IN A CLEAR POSITION.

Jen Owens Images

Brought into right relationship with the wilderness, man... would see that his appropriation of earth's resources beyond his personal needs would only bring imbalance and beget ultimate loss and poverty for all.

BY LINNIE MARSH WOLFE, DESCRIBING MUIR'S REMEDY FOR HUMAN MISERY IN HER BOOK - SON OF THE WILDERNESS: THE LIFE OF JOHN MUIR (1945)